Bulletin Course Description

This is an applied course, hence, learning by doing, in this instance within the profession of management consulting. The course provides a management consulting framework for students to use while interacting with and ultimately providing counsel to an actual client. The geographic focus of this course is Singapore.

Singapore is a global commerce, finance and transport hub with prestigious standings such as the most "technology-ready" nation, top international meetings city, and best investment potential. Despite lacking in natural resources, Singapore developed rapidly as an Asian Tiger economy, has the 3rd highest GDP per capita and foreign exchange centre. Singapore is expected to maintain its status as a regional/global financial center and as a major center in global commerce.
The core of this GW STAP Course is the work with four clients:

1. Bank of Singapore  Headquartered in Singapore. Bank of Singapore serves clients from a network of offices, including a branch in Hong Kong and the Dubai International Financial Centre (DIFC), and representative offices in Manila and Dubai. In London, Bank of Singapore serves clients through the OCBC London office. Current assets under management (AUM) are US$85 billion. Bank of Singapore is a wholly-owned subsidiary of OCBC Bank, Southeast Asia’s second largest bank. Source: Bank of Singapore.

   1.1.  (Contact) Karan Rajput (GW MBA and GW Ramsey Student Investment Fund Alumnus), Managing Director, Bank of Singapore.

2. Ingredion Ingredion Incorporated is an ingredients solutions provider. The Company manufactures and sells sweetener, starches, nutrition ingredients and biomaterial solutions derived from the wet milling and processing of corn and other starch-based materials to a range of industries, both domestically and internationally. Ingredion is a publicly traded company (NYSE: INGR) with a market Capitalization of $8.6 billion USD (as of July 17, 2017). Source: Reuters.

   2.1.  (Contact) Shujing Man, (GW MBA and GW Ramsey Student Investment Fund Alumna), Senior Manager, Financial Planning and Analysis.

3. New Silk Road Investment New Silk Road Investment Pte Ltd (NSRI) is a private limited company incorporated in Singapore in 2008. The founders and principal shareholders are Raymond Goh Wee Hock and Hoong Yik Luen. NSRI provides discretionary investment advice to long-only funds that are primarily focused on investing in Asia ex-Japan equity securities and separately managed accounts. Current assets under management (AUM) are approximately $1.7 billion USD. Source: New Silk Road Investment.

   3.1.  (Contact) Raymond Goh, Portfolio Manager at New Silk Road Investment.

4. Plug and Play Plug and Play is a global innovation platform. Plug and Play connects startups to corporations, and invest in over 100 companies every year. Plug and Play has 22 locations across the world with success stories that include PayPal, Dropbox, SoundHound, and Lending Club. Source: Plug and Play.

   4.1.  (Contact) Wayne Soh, Investment Manager, Singapore.

Learning Objectives

1. Self-awareness - Have better understandings of our own weaknesses and strengths to function in a team environment while recognizing no individual has all the answers.

2. Social - Have the emotional and social intelligence to assimilate with people from another culture while subordinating our biases for friendships and for optimal solutions.
3. Global - Have the global frame of mindset to adapt to changes, quickly absorb complex information, and remain intellectually curious while thinking globally and acting locally. In D.C. our local is global.

4. Leadership - Have the mindset to serve and empower others as a team of one to accomplish common goals with integrity and humility.

Learning Outcomes

1. Apply a systematic consulting structure to client defined project/challenge, including but not limited to:

   1.1. Establishing proper communication channels both with the team and the client.

   1.2. Being self aware regarding status of performance both with the team and externally with the client.

   1.3. Developing the skills to know what questions to ask that uncover the fundamental challenge being addressed.

   1.4. Developing a testable hypotheses, designing and running the related tests/experiments, and collecting the associated data.

   1.5. Synthesizing the data collected and delivering a thoughtful and understandable solution to the client.

2. Establish, advance, and ultimately exhibit a comprehensive understanding of the client’s industry and specific challenge/project.

3. Develop and demonstrate appreciation and empathy for the client’s geographical location, to include: economic, political, cultural, and social standards. Apply these nuanced observations to the client challenge/project.

Structure of the Course

The GW Short Term Away Program (STAP) course FINA 6290 has two elements that comprise this offering. One, the classroom work accomplished in Washington, D.C (both academic and client work); and two, the in country work, in this case Singapore, accomplished while on site. These two elements are complementary and should be fully interconnected from the student’s perspective.

FINA 6290 is a practice course, hence, learning by doing. Student are expected to take full advantage of all available resources, e.g., on campus, online, and industry contacts made available to them. The faculty leading the course in collaboration with The Global and Experiential Education (G&EE) office will provide resources for the students to accomplish their client challenge/project. Students are expected to be resourceful and reliable in the execution of their assignments.
The course has many deliverables between the two elements, that stated, students receive one grade for the entirety of the course.

Prerequisites

None

Would be helpful to have general understanding of accounting and finance concepts.

Technical Requirements

Students are required to establish accounts for, and use video conferencing tools/systems, i.e., Skype and/or Google Hangouts for client calls/meetings. Expenses for these accounts, if any, are the student’s responsibility in full.

Regarding space for STAP related teamwork and/or client meetings - please make requests via the online portal, Reservation for Academic Spaces: https://academicscheduling.gwu.edu/virtualems/

Students are expected to have hardware devices to support their work especially while in country, such as a laptop or tablet and a smartphone.

| Reflection paper on assigned readings (5-10 pages) | The Reflection paper, 5-10 pages, has a two-fold design: 1. to instill a student’s understanding of the cultural and societal implications of Singapore prior the Short Term Away Trip, 2. incorporate a student’s in-country, client, and academic experiences to achieve worldview synthesis.

Due date: 3/22/2018 by 11:59pm                                                                 | 75           |
| Country Analysis Presentation | Goals for the country analysis presentation are to:                                                                                       | 50           |
1. Review the economic, social and cultural aspect of the client’s country.
2. Develop initial theses/hypotheses, which should provide directions to fulfill the needs of the client.
3. Reflection on what else could be done,

The country analysis presentations are done as a group and are 15 minutes long, followed by 10 to 15 minutes of Q&A.

Country analysis Presentations Due – Submit on BlackBoard by 3:00 pm on Thursday, February 8, 2018. Presentations that are submitted late will receive significant grade deductions.

</thead>
draft written report will be graded exclusively by the professor but may be informed by feedback from the client. Reports will be graded on the following criteria:

Criteria used to assess the deliverables include:

1. Responsiveness to client needs/requests
2. Comprehensiveness of research (primary and secondary)
3. Specificity and “actionability” of recommendations made to client
4. Creativity
5. Professionalism of the report, presentation materials, and actual delivery of the proposals

A draft written report and copy of the presentation will be due on Thursday, March 1, 2018 by 11:59pm. Students will receive feedback from the professor on the presentation. Students are expected to revise and update the report and presentation in accordance with this feedback.

The final presentations to the clients will be scheduled at a later date, likely finalized onsite. The clients will be asked to provide explicit feedback on the quality of the work of the team, both in terms of content and delivery. The final report and presentation grade will be based on assessment by the professor with feedback from the client.

Presentations will be graded on the following criteria:

1. Ability to keep to the time limit
2. Quality and clarity of text and graphics
3. Ability to respond to questions
4. Persuasiveness, on-stage confidence, and energy of presentation
5. Eye contact, clarity of speech, and body posture/gestures

Final presentations will be delivered to the client on your assigned day in country. You should email the client an electronic version of the report and the PowerPoint one full day before the presentation and bring a hard copy of the revised report to the presentation for each client present. You should also bring copies of the PowerPoint handout for the client. Adhering to this timeline will require forward planning and should be discussed with your project team.

The Final version of the Deliverable is due
